LOG

December 2, Pits of Damnation

After spending 2 weeks resting and making scrolls and potions, Mrow, Mongo, Zerkwad, Renly (with Chuggins and Grumpo) decides to head back to the Pits, entering level 4 they find a Black Dragon. Mrow wounds it with a lightning bolt and Zerkwad and Mongo charge it. It devours Zerkwad's shield. Mrow injures it with another lightning bolt and Mongo and Zerkwad did some damage with weapons. Then, It grievously injures Grumpo and Mrow with an acid blast. Chuggins, Mongo and Renly are injured but stay standing, and Zerkwad was out of the blast zone. Chuggins leaps forward and hits it with his axe, killing it. They recover a bunch of treasure, including a nice emerald, a potion and scroll and a pile of coins.

Being busted up by fighting a dragon, they took their treasure and went back home.

December 3, Emporion

A day of resting and shopping. Grumpo buys a great axe.

December 4, Pits of Damnation

Mrow, Mongo, Zerkwad and Chuggins and Grumpo decide to head to the Pits. Renly ran off to do his half-elf business (hee-hee). They left a note for Mr. Giggles about where they were going, since he was overdue from his flea-bath. In level 4 of the Pits, they find some garbage in one room and a mist-filled room beyond it (which they avoid). In another corridor, Mongo and Zerkwad devolved into a face-punching session due the effects of a magical annoying hum. Mongo fell down and bruised his nose. Zerkwad rushed out and punched Mrow in the face before snapping out of it. They follow another corridor finding a room with a Rock Golem in it, which Mongo kills single-handedly.

They open a door to a corridor and find a patrol of 8 grey ogres. They hold the Ogres at the door for a while until the ogres drop Chuggin, breaking through and swarming the party. After 2 ogres are killed, Mrow uses a Fear Spell and Sleep spell to defeat 5 more and Mongo and Zerkwad kills the last, as Giggles show up. Grumpo runs away, affected by the spell. Giggles becomes outraged that Grumpo ran away and declares that he is dead to him.

Back-tracking, Giggles examines a Mermaid Mosaic but a Demon appears. The crew takes the demon apart pretty quickly. They loot the mosaic for its electrum. Chuggins is poisoned by some garbage, but healed by White Lotus.

The team massacres 2 Fish-guys and the three ogres who had fled back to them, beginning with a fireball from Mrow. Zerkwad and Giggles were briefly held by magic. Chuggins is grievously wounded by a magic glyph while examining the altar. He gets nasty face scars from it. Discovering a secret bookcase, Mrow is wounded by a cold-magic. They discover a potion and scroll.

They next stumble into a company of 40 Ratmen. Mrow puts down 9 with a sleep spell. Mongo and Giggles mow down a ton of them in glorious rampage. The remaining Ratmen flee and Giggles chases them down only to see them mowed down by berserkers. Giggles talks to them and discovers that the berserkers had been magically transported to the dungeon and were looking for a way out. Giggles is joined by Zerkwad who tries to recruit the berserkers, failing to convince all but his kinsman Buttwad. Buttwad follows goes with them for a brief time, but Zerkwad suddenly sours on him and sends him back to his fellows.

Farther north, they are ambushed by a Stone Giant. Zerkwad, after wasting 1 potion on a failed attempt, shoves a second shrinking potion into the giant's mouth, shrinking it down to 6" and they shove it into a sack. After killing the giant, they scout a room with more Fish Guys and Grey Ogres, they decided not to attack them and to return home.
