Set-Up: The Dusty Richards Gang were all mounted and were herding 9 cattle. They were all inside Bushwhack Canyon, between the river and the rim. They needed to move their cattle to the ranch outside of the canyon. The Red Hooch Gang were set to ambush them and rustle the cattle. The Hooch riflemen were on the canyon rim overlooking the gang, the remaining 4 gang members were outside the canyon waiting for the cattle to be driven out, where they could use their pistols in the narrow exit.

Summary of Action: Red Tom, Blue Tom and Mountain Tom engaged in a long rifle battle with the Dusty Richards riders, with both sides taking wounds. They managed to gun down Red Richards and Dusty Richards when each of the pair in turn road up the path to the top of the rim and were subject to close range fire from all three.

Dapper Bill gave up waiting and tried to run up along the river to help the Toms on the hill, but the Richards gunned him down. Crazy Bill and Old Cookie Swanson followed soon after, although they had some serious trouble getting across the river. Sloppy Bill first climbed to the far rim of the canyon, then climbed back down, and then followed the rest of them over.

Old Cookie was gunned down, but Crazy Bill crossed the river and messed up Pointy Bill hand-to-hand before being shot down. Finally the remaining 2 Richards were shot to pieces by the riflemen on the canyon rim, and the battle was over, with none of the cows moving an inch at all.
