December 4th - 11th, YOR 2032

The heroes have just returned to Algart following their failed attempts to conquer the Perp Azhoelz. They spend a week resupplying and re-training. Healing potions are purchased. A potion of detect invisibility is purchased. Toby Pockets becomes an initiate of Nodens. Sister Sabine makes some holy water. Toby and Moonshadow hire new henchmen, Thomas of the Two Destinies and Borazz. Walker does some drills to move silently for this adventure and Gummo does some drills to hit harder.

The party learns that Moonshadow has received a map that identifies the location of a forgotten temple that was once dedicated to serve as the final resting place of fallen members of the Order of St. Reynard. Anyone with a brain would know that St. Reynard helped Erlin destroy the Tower of Damnation in the days of Old Virkon. This temple would be the final resting place for these soldiers who came after Reynard to support Virkon. Amidst the desolation of the temple, the adventurers might uncover chambers that reveal remnants of the Order of St. Reynard's once fervent allegiance to the fallen city of Virkon.

December 12th, YOR 2023

The Half-Gross Heroes travel to Naucastle. Walker introduces the group as the entourage of "Moonpanda." They are uncharacteristically turned away from Naucastle by the cyclopean guards. The party is forced to spend the night at a local roadhouse, the Rusty Bucket. There they meet the innkeeper Jeoff and his wife Wilma. In the night, Plopper the Garbage Cyclops finds Toby. He reports that Archon Zebidee is not what he seems, and now threatens the cyclopean guard with a curse. Archon Zebidee has already cursed Richard the cyclops, and threatens to curse the others with the wasting goo curse as well. Plopper becomes Toby's henchman. Plopper spends the night at the barn, drooling over the mule who looks tasty.

December 13th, YOR 2023

The next morning the party buys Plopper a pony he names "Delicious" to feed him. They travel to the edge of the Pine Wood and prepare to push toward the temple dedicated to the fallen knights of St. Reynard.

Dec 14th, YOR 2023

The Half-Gross heroes venture into the Pine Wood toward the temple. Along the way, they pass the footprint of a collapsed keep but decide not to investigate. A giant troll attacks that night. Plopper is blinded as he is healed by Owlbear Punch.

Dec 15th, YOR 2023

The heroes track the troll to his den. They enter, and manage to battle five more of the giant trolls. They are dispatched one by one.

Dec 16th - 19th, YOR 2023

During the travel back to Planks, the heroes lose one big painting. They discuss storing the treasure with Uncle Jackoff. Warden Haynes has a score of mercenaries in Planks now. The heroes divide up the potions at Planks.

Dec 20th, YOR 2023

A traveling merchant from House Margoza pays market value for the items that were recovered from the troll's den. In the next session, the Half-Gross heroes will leave from Planks.
