Prologue: After forty years of isolation since the great disaster, the marshal of the hidden community of Scarpville, Texas, has decided that time has come to have his Outlander Squad become more active in the world. He has determined that a series of operations could result in considerable improvement to the community. His first plan is to send out a small squad of Outlanders to collect deer and buffalo hide in order to increase the leather-working stock of the community. So, during March of 2055 he sends forth Big Beef, Django, and Navajo Joe to hunt, with Old Cookie Swanson to man the wagon and cook.

Log:

Day 1: The team bags 1 deer

Day 2: They are attacked by 4 rabid dogs. Big Beef kills three of them, and Navajo Joe kills the fourth, but not before Django is bitten in the rear while ignobly trying to climb a tree in fear.

Day 3: after bagging a second deer, the team sends Django and the hides back with Cookie on the wagon, telling Cookie to fetch Bloodshot and to meet them at the entrance to the coastal black prairie in several days time.

Day 4: both teams travel

Day 5: both teams travel, Beef and Navajo bag a deer.

Day 6: Big Beef and Navajo Joe are ambushed by 4 damned dirty apemen with zipguns. However, two of the guns explode, killing one of the apes, stunning another. Beef and Joe attack and kill the remaining three apes.

Day 7: Beef and Joe bag another deer, but are assaulted by Big Beef's personal nemesis, Ashcan Pete, the leader of the Northwest Texas Hobo Alliance, and by several of his hobo minions. There is an inconclusive battle where some of the minions are killed (one getting his head pulped by Joe), and with Big Beef taking some major wounds. However, when Ashcan Pete is moderately injured, he and his men take off, vowing to get revenge.

Day 8: Big Beef and Navajo Joe meet up with Cookie and Bloodshot. They kill two Neo-Apaches and proceed to take the hides of 3 cattle and 2 bison, filling their assigned quota at last,

Day 9 They fight 2 more Apaches on the way out of the prairie and return home.

Day 12: The team returns to Scarpville. Old Doc Lockspur has determined that it is reasonably certain that Django is infected with rabies from his dog-bite on the ass. The marshal decides that whatever of his other plans for the Outlanders may have been, he must push forward the quest to find the materials necessary for the Pasteur treatment for rabies to the forefront, in order to save Django's life. So, an expedition is planned to fetch the needed materials.
